Class A is very similar to our current package sale license. There are newer endorsement options, but aside from that it is essentially the same.

Class B is also very similar, the most significant difference is that we are eliminating the Beer/Wine only license in favor of all restaurants (that meet the square footage/seat requirements) being able to choose what type of alcohol they sell.

Class C is an expansion of some existing licenses. The most significant difference will be the relaxed food service regulations for this category.

Class D is an entirely new category. It was created to avoid having too many classes for what are really limited geographic areas.
