Yes		Have a positive impact on your business?	No	The special events team has been super helpful with getting permits when we have events that want to use a food truck for catering.
No		Have a negative impact on your business?	No	We like the idea, but as a restaurant owner it doesn't work for the already established restaurants. The city is working on bettering the downtown area with very nice restaurants and having food trucks next to them isint helpful for business and it doesn't look good. We have people from the food trucks coming in constantly asking to use our
Yes	Offer more spots to promote our downtown. The trucks are a big draw, as a downtown business this helps everyone.	Have a positive impact on your business?	Yes

No		Have a negative impact on your business?	No	Brick and mortars pay rent, taxes, maintain our buildings, and don't get to just cherry pick when to show up and do business.
Yes	this was essential due to lack of dining options to handle traffic flow. I think what will benefit everyone is creating a designated food truck park when the 6 locations become challenged by more restaurant locals.	Most establishments cannot handle the traffic flow, this provides a great alternative.	Yes	They are a great alternative to the limited food offerings available in the downtown area and have been used properly. Any exposure generated by the food trucks currently help the overall appeal. There needs to be a serious discussion as to how many food service establishments are enough to warrant the food trucks moving to a designated park.

Yes	Our city needs to keep providing ways to increase foot traffic. Food trucks are business and they too pay taxes they're just on wheels. We should not discriminate or feel intimidated they are 100 ft away.. Aurora needs to keep moving our downtown forward Food trucks bring people, I would like to see a food truck court in Aurora where one different cuisine would be present daily... Let's change with times or time will change our city or our city will remain as is currently without organic foot traffic unless an event....	Have a positive impact on your business?	Yes	I think Aurora should have a permanent designated area where food trucks can come, remove your limitation with hours and days.. Lets continue moving forward with modernization. Aurora should allow more areas other than Downer and Stolp there is more to downtown other than Stolp Island and those two corners..
